If you missed last year's historical "Seriously Cool - Ontario Chardonnay" OWS event, you get a second, better, chance to taste the best that Canada has to offer... all in one place.

Last year, Bill Redelmeier, organizer of this promotional initiative and Southbrook Vineyards owner, and the other winery principals took their wines to Canada House in London, England to be tasted ... and praised ... by the British wine critics and trade. They wanted to demonstrate that Canada can make some very impressive Cool Climate, that is, Burgundian like, still wines as well as the Icewines that we have become famous for.

This year, Bill and gang, and the Seriously Cool - Great Canadian Chardonnay Grape, take on the Big Apple's critics and trade.

Selected by a panel of experts from the 100 submitted, this year's top Chardonnays from Ontario and British Columbia will be tasted by OWS members, guests and the public in a dress rehearsal before the wines head to the McGraw Hill building high up in the skyline of New York City in midtown Manhattan.

As a special treat, you will taste the Chardonnays in a commemorative Ontario Wine Society 20th Anniversary, Schott Zwiesel Cru Classic glass, that you keep and take home.

The wineries that will be going to New York City and pouring the wines for us, that they will be showcasing there, are;
